British, German, French and Italian Ambassadors Inform Him They Will Support Reform Program

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 4.—The British, German, French and Italian ambassadors visited the sultan yesterday and notified the Turkish officials that they were in receipt of instructions from their respective governments to support the Austro-Russian reform scheme.

The sultan strongly objects to their control of the reform features.

Orders have been issued for the disbandment of 50 battalions of reserves.

NOW IS THE TIME.

Take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil now. Not next week or next month, but now. You need it to put fat on your bones and strengthen your body to stand the cold and trying weather of the next few months.

Nine-tenths of the population would be benefited by taking Scott's Emulsion regularly three times a day for a month or more every fall to fortify and strengthen the system against the cold and constant changes that occur through the winter. The benefit is particularly marked with young, delicate children. No food that they can take begins to compare with Scott's Emulsion.

Pure cod liver oil is scarce but if you get Scott's Emulsion you'll be sure to get only the purest and best oil.

We'll send you a sample free, upon request.

EPIDEMIC RAGING DANGEROUS EYE DISEASE

A Hundred Thousand Cases—Oculists Unable to Cure It—Dr. J. Harvey Moore, the St. Louis Oculist, Discovers a Positive Cure.

Dr. J. HARVEY MOORE.

A recent issue of the St. Louis papers states the terrible eye disease, trachoma, commonly known as "granulated eyes," is raging in New Orleans. It is also prevalent in the Mississippi Valley and by the most eminent oculists of the world. Persons afflicted with this disease are not allowed to enter this country. Dr. J. Harvey Moore, the St. Louis oculist, has discovered a positive cure for this dread malady, no difference how degenerate the case, even to the extent of blindness. Thousands are affected with this terrible malady and are not aware of it. If your eyes feel itchy, inflamed or watery or have matter in the corners in the morning or feel like they had sand in them, you had better before your case becomes serious, write him, enclosing your eyes and give him an honest opinion absolutely FREE OF CHARGE.

A FEW DESPERATE CASES.

Rev. F. N. Olin, pastor of the Compton Heights Christian Church, St. Louis, was almost blind with trachoma, or granulated eyes, for 13 years. Several of the leading oculists of the United States pronounced him incurable. Dr. J. Harvey Moore cured him and restored his sight five years ago.

Rev. W. Knight, city salesman for the "East Banknote and Lithographing Co." of St. Louis, was blind ten years. Several of the most prominent oculists of St. Louis failed to cure him. Dr. J. Harvey Moore cured him and restored his sight in a short time. He cured the eyes of Leonard Schoppa, a prominent merchant of Macomb, Ill.; Miss Jessie Whipple, 210 Pine st., St. Louis, and Miss Vera Owen, elder-in-law of Wm. Seeger of the Columbia Brewery, St. Louis, and hundreds more.

Dr. Moore cures weak eyes or failing sight with the "Oculist" method without the use of the knife or caustics, and straightens cross eyes without pain.

Dr. Moore was appointed by two Governors of Missouri, oculist in charge, of the State Blind Asylum.

KRATZ TURNS DOWN OFFICERS' CARDS

Sheriff Dickmann and Chief Desmond Have Not Called On Their Intended Prisoner.

RESPECTS PAID AT PALACE

John Kratz Has Nothing to Say to St. Louis Detective at Their Sudden Meeting on Street.

BY C. C. RIDER,
Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

BY C. C. RIDER,
Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Nov. 4.—Accompanied by United States Consul Edward B. Light, Chief of Detectives Desmond and Sheriff Dickmann called on and were received by Gov. Miguel Ahumada, governor of the state of Jalisco, at 6 o'clock last night.

Several other visitors were waiting for a chance to see his excellency when the St. Louis officers arrived, but the governor, dismissing all who could not wait indefinitely, gave orders for the immediate reception of the trio.

He received them most cordially, and with them plunged at once into what became a three-hour discussion of the Kratz case. Gov. Ahumada went into great detail in explaining the status of the case. He said that Kratz had been arrested on orders from Senor Mariscal, Mexican secretary of foreign affairs, in compliance with a request from Ambassador Powell Clayton. He said that he and other officials of Jalisco had nothing to do with the case further than to obey orders which came to them from the national capital.

Kratz, he explained, would be held for 35 days, or so much of that time as is necessary for the receipt of the extradition papers. These will be examined by the federal authorities. If they find that the facts warrant extradition, under the Mexican law the authorities of Jalisco will be ordered to surrender the prisoner to the St. Louis officers for extradition.

CONVICTS HUSBAND; BEGS HIS RELEASE

Mrs. Cerambo Relents After Better Half Is Sentenced to Workhouse.

After securing his conviction for wife and child abandonment, and hearing him sentenced to six months in the workhouse, Mrs. Antonio Cerambo went before Judge Moore in the Court of Criminal Correction Wednesday morning and pleaded for the release of her husband. Judge Moore acquiesced on the agreement that Cerambo shall provide a home for his wife and children before Dec. 6.

The examination of the extradition papers, he explained, would be in the nature of a trial, before the district judge at Guadalajara, who would determine whether the evidence against Kratz in the United States would be sufficient to convict him of an extraditable offense in a Mexican court. The findings of the district judge will be reviewed and revised by President Diaz or the secretary of the department of foreign affairs, who will then issue the final order in the Kratz case.

Papers Sent Back to District Judge.

Desmond says that he and Dickmann are here awaiting orders from Circuit Attorney Folk or from United States Ambassador Clayton. It is understood that the extradition papers are en route to the City of Mexico, if they have not already reached the capital. Ambassador Clayton will at once present them to Senor Mariscal, who, in turn, will send them to the district judge at Guadalajara for the trial.

While Desmond and Dickmann talked with Gov. Ahumada, the evening band concert and the promenade of the senoritas was in progress in the plaza before the palace. The crowd was larger than usual, and all eyes were turned toward the palace.

John Kratz, a brother of Charles Kratz, and Attorney Fauntleroy, who came on from St. Louis to assist Kratz in his fight for liberty, strolled back and forth.

Immediately after the conference with Gov. Ahumada, Desmond and Dickmann went directly to the office of Senor Mendoza, jefe politico, or police magistrate, whose office is also in the palace, and next door to the room in which Kratz is confined. They were cordially received, and discussed the case at length, but not so fully as with the governor.

They did not see Kratz, although they said they were willing to call on him if he would receive them. I asked Kratz this morning if they had called or would call.

"They have not, and will not," he replied, laughing.

The officers saw Charles Carroll and John Kratz last evening. They were given only the opportunity of a somewhat frigid handshake, as the two chief workers for the prisoner avoided conversation. Carroll, Kratz, young Charles Kratz and other friends of the prisoner kept an almost constant watch on the officers since their arrival.

Many Curious to See Officers.

When Desmond and Dickmann arrived in Guadalajara yesterday at noon, they were met at the station by a large number of citizens, who did not, however, give them an ovation. A peon offered his services as guide and luggage bearer, and with him in front of them, they crushed their way through the crowd.

Their first question was, "Where is Kratz?" and they were told; but when they got clear of the station crowd, they did not start toward Kratz's prison. Instead, with the peon loaded with their luggage and before them, they went to a private boarding house on Calle Macstranzas, one block from the Kratz home.

The officers engaged their rooms for an indefinite period, saying they would probably be in Guadalajara two or three weeks.

The first thing they did was to take a Turkish bath. Then they had a light lunch, after which they enjoyed the steaming hours. Afterwards they groomed themselves carefully, and went on their official business. In addition to calling on Gov. Ahumada and Inspector Mendoza, they visited the American Club with Consul Light, where they received several visitors.

When either or both of the officers go to the City of Mexico, or whether they will go at all, depends, they say, upon orders which they expect from Mr. Folk.

DESMOND FOR DIPLOMACY, DICKMANN AWAITS ORDERS

Circuit Attorney Folk said Wednesday that Desmond and Dickmann went direct to Guadalajara, and not first to the City of Mexico, in pursuance of a definite plan. They will there await the arrival of the extradition papers in the City of Mexico, he said, "of which they will be advised by this office as soon as we receive them."

"A Train Load of Shoes."

As a result of the two weeks' absence from the city of C. E. Hills Shoe Co. buyer, a train load of shoes, valued at $10,000, arrived in St. Louis, Monday, Nov. 2, from the eastern shoe markets. This shipment is without doubt the largest ever consigned to any retail shoe house in the West.

Mr. J. F. Sensenbrenner, the buyer for the shoe method company, is well known throughout the shoe markets of the country, and is the most successful and successful buyer in the country.

It is not QUANTITY which counts with him, (as this purchase substantiated) but QUALITY and price.

All are first-class goods running regular and without defect. The C. E. Hills Shoe Co. were enabled to buy such an enormous quantity at a very low price and put them on sale at one-third less than regular value price.

The lot includes men's, women's, misses and children's, boys and youths. Fine foot-wear, renowned throughout the country for fit, wear and style.

GOLD FOR "NEWSIES" NOT BY MISTAKE

Generous Englishman Gladdens the Hearts of Many Street Merchants.

SLIPS COIN IN THEIR HANDS

Sometimes It Is a Sovereign, Worth $4.80—Tells Them to Keep It as Pocket Piece.

A generous Englishman is making glad the days of the newsboys of St. Louis. Not all of them have shared his generosity, indeed only a small per cent of them—but those who have know that it is not of the short measure variety, and those who haven't are eagerly awaiting this strange man's return into their lives.

He is giving away gold, and not by mistake either. With each coin he gives to the boys, he stoops over, and in a soft, round voice, wishes the boy success, tells him to live a good life and "keep this for a pocket piece."

Sometimes "this" is a sovereign, and sometimes it is a half sovereign, but beautiful coins, the former of the value of $4.80 in United States money and the latter $2.40. Placing the coin into the boy's hand or slipping it into his pocket, the big stranger takes his Post-Dispatch and disappears.

One of the boys Tuesday noon described his unknown benefactor as a man perhaps 45 years old, 6 feet and 2 inches tall, pointed gray beard, and wearing a long black overcoat and light colored, checked suit.

The newsies are on the out vive over the unheralded appearance in their midst of this mysterious person. Many are the stories they tell of his gifts to them and to others and of incidents connected with the gift.

Alleged St. Louis Murderer Caught.

James Parks, charged with the killing of Charles Bentley in a street fight at the corner of Fifteenth and Market streets, Oct. 2, was arrested in Montgomery City, Mo., Tuesday.

THE STRENUOUS LIFE

A Great Strain.

No one disputes the fact that we are living in a "rapid" age; it is rush, rush, rush from morning till night, and competition is so fierce that the struggle does not cease until the machine is worn out. Women, too, even when surrounded by every comfort, become infected by the common spirit, and what with their clubs and many social duties, have no time to give thought to their physical well-being, until they are suddenly brought to a sharp realization of the fact that nothing in their lives is so important as attention to correct or rational living.

It may surprise the reader to learn that women are more prone to piles than men, and in most cases because it is difficult to impress upon them the importance of regular movements of the bowels; irregularity means straining at stool, and straining means piles, with the certainty (under the usual methods of treatment) that the sufferer will "have them always with her"; by "usual methods" is meant the application of salves and lotions, or (as a last resort) a surgical operation.

If there is a complaint which entails more distress and suffering upon those afflicted than piles or hemorrhoids, it is not known to the writer; fortunately, however, these are learning that there is a remedy that effectually cures all forms of piles; it is known as the Pyramid Pile Cure, it is suppository form, is applied directly to the parts, and does its work quickly and painlessly; it is sold by druggists at 50 cents a package, or will be mailed by the makers to any address upon receipt of price.

Mrs. L. M. Joliff, Parisburg, Ohio, says: "I feel it my duty to acknowledge the great benefit I have received from the use of Pyramid Pile Cure. For several months I suffered untold agony from the bleeding piles, and was finally advised by a Columbus doctor to get Pyramid Pile Cure at once, which I did, and one box completely cured me. I advise all sufferers to use it." Write the Pyramid Drug Co., Mar. Mich., for their little book on uses and cure of

BABY IMPRISONED IN FOLDING BED

Granite City Child Found, Nearly Dead, by Horror-Stricken Mother.

Adele, the 3-year-old daughter of A. W. McGinn of West Granite City, narrowly escaped death by suffocation in a folding bed at the family home this morning.

The child was left in bed by the parents on arising and, while they were at breakfast, an older son, passing through the bedroom and not seeing the child, closed the bed.

After the meal the mother visited the room and in horror saw that the bed was closed. Practically pulling it down, she released the almost suffocated baby, who was black in the face from its confinement and unconscious for the want of air.

WASHINGTON READY FOR THE TIGERS ST. LOUIS U. SHOWS NO IMPROVEMENT

St. Louis Team Is Very Light, but Fast and New Plays Are Looked to With Hopes.

The strongest eleven that Washington University has had on a football field in two years will face Missouri University Saturday, unless accidents of practice interfere. The management has had its eye fixed on this game as the one which it must win at all hazards.

The eleven men who will try to hold the Tigers will be many pounds shy in weight of the ponderous Missouri eleven, but the team has gone against weight advantages in every game it has played this season, with the exception of the Shurtleff College game.

Otherwise the eleven makes a short showing with the following array:

Cassell (160), center; Luckey (180) and Sloan (175), guards; Krause (165) and Heuman (175), tackles; Bischoff (155) and Snell (145), ends; Stuttle (135), quarterback; Smith (140) and Pittman (145), halfbacks; Tolson (150), fullback.

This makes a total weight of 1750 pounds, an average for the team of but 159 pounds. Coach Boynton says these weights are overestimated. The team was not given by the men themselves.

Washington's line is particularly frail, with an average of only 132. The back line is low with 154. Contrasted with the big western eleven, Washington is a puny eleven. It showed up so when it faced Northwestern.

The aggregation has good team work and, with the exception of the Kolia contest, has played fast, clean games through the year.

It will go into Saturday's game 20 per cent faster than it has yet been, and will be reinforced by a variety of plays which have not been exhibited as yet in practice. Missouri's games have not been of an encouraging nature. On a muddy field the Haskell Indians came up and pointed against the tigers and reports say that it was fortunate for Missouri that the Indians did not have a dry field.

Officials for the game have not been announced. The Missouri team is expected here Friday night and will play on Saturday.

C. B. C. ALUMNI PREPARE FOR GAME WITH REGULARS

Alumni of C. B. C. football squads for the past five years have been practicing since Sunday for the game with the regular college eleven, which takes place Nov. 21 on the campus.

At first practice, a squad of 12 reported. Since then the number of players has increased. Next Sunday a game will be played by the C. B. C. second team and the alumni in order to give the latter team practice.

The following players are practicing at different times with the squad: Frank Brockmeyer, Patrick, Hanick, Powers, O'Donnoghue, McGraw, Jackson, Nix, a Brockmeyer, Bland, Bernero, Longmott, Foley, Schlaffly, Barrera, Dougherty and Dowd.

WASHINGTONS DEFEAT SECOND HIGH 6 TO 5.

The Washingtons defeated the second High School team 6 to 5 in an exciting game yesterday afternoon, played on the High School grounds at Forest Park.

The teams were evenly matched in weight, the ball being in the center of the field throughout the first half. In the second half, the Washingtons took the field for a score from which no goal was made.

By a series of dashing and runs by Mason and Wind, the Washingtons put the ball over a touchdown and goal was kicked, winning the game.

JOYCE IS THE NEW CHAMPION.

Great Long-Distance Runners Fall Before the Pastime A. C. Man.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Joyce of the Pastime Athletic Club of New York has won the senior cross country run championship of America in a contest at Croton, N. Y., the country home of the New York Athletic Club.

By defeating the field Joyce took down the two runners who were prominent in the championship won over long distances. Schutt, Carr, Grant and Valentine, each of whom occupied prominent places in the championship, were all beaten by Joyce. Schutt is a Cornell student who spread the word of the field, and Joyce, a Cornell intercollegiate sports last spring, while Grant and Carr recently took the measure of the two mile and was run over three times. Joyce's time was 22 minutes 24.4 seconds.

WANTS TO MEET DETROIT.

The management of the Triple A Lacrosse team is endeavoring to arrange a game here between the Detroit and Triple A teams. In response to a communication from A. H. Yenn of the Triple A's Alex field of the Detroit club writes that he will bring his team to St. Louis provided he can arrange a game with Chicago to be played following the Detroit game. The St. Louis club offers a $300 guarantee for the game, but the Detroit players think that insufficient to cover expenses.

Former Fighter Found Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Thomas C. Kelly, said to have been at one time middleweight champion of the West, was found dead in his room at the Hotel New York, where he had been staying since he was released from the ring to become a professional boxer. Kelly, who was 32 years old, had been in the ring for two years and was a well-known fighter. He was found by a maid in his room at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The cause of death was not known.

Trust Company Will Close.

George B. Carstensen has been selected as settling agent for the United States Trust Co., which has entered into liquidation. The company was organized in 1892 and had a capital of $1,000,000. It was one of the largest trust companies in the country. The liquidation was ordered by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis. The company's assets are estimated at $1,000,000. The liquidation will be completed by the end of the year.

BAPTISTE HURT IN CAR COLLISION

Local Wrestler Will Not Be Able to Meet Adamson Thursday Night.

Gorge Baptiste, the St. Louis champion middleweight wrestler, who was to have met Ed Adamson Thursday night at the New West End Club coliseum, was injured in a street car collision at Grand and Lucas avenue this morning.

Baptiste was standing on the car platform when the car collided with a wagon. The wagon struck him in the thigh. Baptiste was thrown to the floor of the car. His leg and thigh are swollen and discolored.

As a result of the occurrence Baptiste will not be able to take part in the contest Thursday night. He sent a messenger to promoter Haughton, asking that the match be called off or postponed two weeks to give him time to get into shape. The articles of agreement specify Nov. 5 as the date of the bout and both men have forfeited to Adamson. Adamson will probably consent to meet Baptiste later.

The selection of a referee for the bout is still to be made.

The articles of agreement stipulated John C. Meyers, but Adamson wanted a combined champion and referee. The referee was selected as John C. Meyers, a friend of Baptiste's.

Adamson, bigger and stronger looking than when he last met Baptiste, has made all his arrangements to relieve Baptiste of 800 side bet and the middleweight championship.

Baptiste has never lost a match at his weight and the sporting reports down him as already beginning to hang out signs of Adamson money only is wanted.

Baptiste, on the strength of his last victory, the fact that the struggle hold in the articles of agreement, and that he is putting up rolls of money on himself will make him a favorite with the crowd.

Adamson is so confident of beating Baptiste that he offers to make $1000 he can beat any middleweight wrestler in the world, and bare none of them.

DEATH CAUSED BY ARSENIC.

Henry Dehas Was Despondent After Serious Accident.

A verdict of death from arsenic poisoning was returned Wednesday morning after the inquest in the case of Henry Dehas, a laborer 58 years old, who died at his home, 2220 Burton street, Tuesday night.

The inquest was conducted by Deputy Coroner O'Keefe. William Dehas testified that he had been injured in an accident at the factory where he worked six months ago, both legs being broken, and that he had never fully recovered from his injuries and was deeply despondent.

HIGH SCHOOL MOCK TRIAL

Will Be Held by Members of Literary Society Nov. 20.

The High School Literary Society will hold its annual mock trial, Friday, Nov. 20, in the auditorium of the High School building at Grand and Finney avenues.

The mock trial is the most interesting feature of the scholastic year and never fails to bring the school out in a body.

The jury was selected Friday and the trial arrangements made. Arthur Simpson will be on the bench and the prosecution and defense will each have two attorneys. Lester Hyman and M. M. Wolf for the prosecution and John Wall and John Hall for the defense. Robert Dunham is the prisoner, charged with burglary. John Dolke and E. Reeder will be the sheriff and clerk.

The trial this year will be a great improvement, as the participants have been competing during the year for a gold medal offered by the teachers of the school to the society member winning the greatest number of regular district oratory contests.

MISSOURI'S MINERAL EXHIBIT.

The Missouri World's Fair commission will meet the public wish by providing for a live exhibit of the state's mineral resources and interests.

It was Col. Gregg's design to have a mine and refining plant in operation. It is said that if this plan is adopted the mining operators of southwest Missouri will put in several accessory features, illustrating the whole process from ore to finished product.

A live mineral and mining exhibit of this description will be a paying investment. The World's Fair has been widely advertised as an exhibition of processes. This is to be its essential characteristic, and it will be unwise and unprofitable for Missouri to depart from the general idea by putting in a dull and uninteresting "dead" exhibit, of which the only recommendation is cheapness. It will undoubtedly cheapen the reputation of Missouri.

Col. Gregg resigned because of the niggardly policy of the commission. It is hoped that the commission will yet see the advantages of a broad-minded view and a liberal treatment of all Missouri interests.

The Kratz enterprises have been greatly stimulated by the extradition proceedings.

WHAT WILL THE LADIES DO?

When Mrs. Melba arrived in St. Louis last Sunday morning in her special car she was playing bridge whist with members of her troupe.

In most of the late English novels the game of "bridge," as it is abbreviated, which has become the favorite gambling game of English society—especially since a celebrated duchess introduced her Sunday afternoon "bridge" parties on her lawn, at one of which H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, now King Edward VII, was present—is repeatedly referred to. Lately it has obtained a considerable hold in fashionable society in the United States.

Mrs. Melba and the society women of England and America may not know it, but in 1713, when the gambling craze among Englishwomen was at its height, Sir Richard Steele, the famous editor of the Spectator and associate of Joseph Addison, wrote this of them:

"Hollow eyes, haggard looks and pale complexions are the natural indications of the female gambler. I never knew one of these women to hold her beauty two winters together."

Are Mrs. Melba and the women of America willing to take the chance?

That Indian war is reaching the magnitude of a Kentucky feud.

THE SECRET OF LONGEVITY.

John Dailey, born in Ireland April 22, 1801, has just died in Chicago.

Mr. Dailey's son attributes his father's 102 years to his simple life. He never drank liquor or coffee, never smoked or chewed tobacco, took rational exercise, ate sparingly, etc., etc.

But all these habits were only symptoms. They point to simplicity of mind, an habitual quiet, a temper not ruffled by artificial cravings for sensual pleasures.

The outer life reflects the inner and takes color from it. John Dailey was a placid-minded man, content with his lot. He never bought stocks when they were too high, nor sold them when they were too low. It is doubtful if he ever looked at the ticker. Consequently he never worried.

This is the secret of long and vigorous life. If the inner man does not permit the outer man to go looking for trouble the whole man will prosper. In fact, he will be really whole, that is, healthy, and his life will make up in intensity what-ever it may lack in intensity.

Rumors of Joy's appointment are probably premature. No appointment can be made until the postoffice is investigated again. The President must have all the facts.

THE MISSOURI'S MEMORIAL GIFT APPROVED

The approval of the design of the memorial bell and its artistic stand for the battleship Missouri by Naval Constructor A. W. Stahl, to whom the details of the work were referred by Admiral Bowles, chief of the bureau of construction U. S. N., completes all preliminaries to the final presentation of the memorial gift of Missourians to the great battleship bearing the state's name.

The suggestion of a memorial gift in some art form was originally made by the Artists' Guild, which appointed a committee to promote the movement. That committee took the matter up with the governor and the navy department, finding approval and co-operation from both. Former Secretary of the Navy Long urgently advised a memorial bell and this form of gift was approved by Admiral Bowles and other officials of the navy department. The details of the work were referred to Naval Constructor Stahl, who supplied specifications and finally approved the completed design. The funds for the movement were raised by popular subscription.

The bell of the Missouri will differ from other bells presented to warships by cities and states after which they are named. All others are of a conventional pattern and are hung in the ship's yards supplied for the regulation ship's bell. The bell of the Missouri are the original work of R. P. ...

...the sculptor, of this city. Of course the ornamentation is necessarily limited to preserve the tone, ... his fancy in the stand, which is a ... two mermaids playing in ... south holds the bell.

The work is graceful and charming. The wave effect is also produced on the rim of the bell, which bears an inscription and the seal of the state. The stand is 61-2 by 31-2 feet, filling one of the triangular divisions of the "military top." The color will be a delicate green bronze.

The bell will be a permanent part of the ship, a gift to all the officers and men who serve on the vessel, testifying as long as it floats to the generous remembrance of Missourians. In peace and war its voice will be heard calling the men to duty.

According to Mr. Stahl the ship will be commissioned in December of this year and it is to be hoped that the bell will be ready to be presented and installed when the ship enters the service.

The victory of Tammany over the fusionists in New York City demonstrated that the non-partisan good government movement in municipalities is as yet only spasmodic and is regarded by the voters merely as a corrective measure to be resorted to only when partisan government becomes intolerable. The fusion movement in New York was good and clean; it corrected most of the evils with which New York was afflicted under the domination of a partisan machine, but one term of reform was sufficient to drive large numbers of voters, who had supported it under the sting of partisan abuses, back to their party. Probably one of the strongest reasons for the defeat of fusion was the tendency, usually exhibited in reform movements, to go to extremes and to mingle with good government attempts to regulate individual conduct, which is fatal to any party in a large American city where the mass of the people resent encroachment upon personal liberty. Besides, there is no strong tie of immediate self-interest and of organization to bind together the elements of reform; they are isolated groups or individuals brought together temporarily for relief from clearly recognized governmental evils. Until good government becomes a permanent active principle in an enlightened public mind, capable of perceiving at all times the advantage of efficiency and honesty in public office over all other considerations, there is little hope of anything but occasional victories for non-partisan reform tickets. But advance is noticeable in purification movements, the increasing frequency of reform victories and the growing deference of party organizations to public opinion. Tammany had to nominate a personally clean man and capture two fusion office holders in order to win.

MUNICIPAL HOUSE CLEANING.

The startling disclosures of an alliance between police and criminals in Chicago is another warning that to prevent corruption in cities citizens must be on the alert at all times.

The report of the citizens' association describes police methods as "a sort of union of terrorism and corruption." Police officers are charged with ordering thieves to steal and sometimes actually participating in the crime. Afterwards they blackmail the thieves for a division of the profits. Other graver offenses, sadder in their consequences, are charged against the force.

All large cities seem to be going through a process of purgation. Minneapolis lost a mayor and chief of police through revelations similar to those of Chicago. In St. Louis the corruption appears chiefly in the form of booting franchise-granting for bribes and other forms of graft. In New York and Philadelphia no species of wrongdoing is scorned by the grafting population. In fact, in one way or another, every American city seems to be bedeviled.

Happily, public sentiment is pretty thoroughly aroused and is getting educated. But the lesson of all these examples will count for little if people do not learn the most important lesson of all—that they cannot afford to relax their vigilance for one moment. The forces of corruption are always on the watch. The forces of honesty must be equally alert if the present widespread scandalous condition is not to be repeated.

If a German editor has to go to jail for calling a burgomaster "His Majesty," not because the burgomaster is insulted by the title, but because Kaiser Wilhelm is offended at such a use of the imperial title, it is time for more German editors to move to the United States.

Sam Parks has been convicted a second time. Now let the gilded grafters who engineer "artistic swindles" be prosecuted. Lawbreakers at both ends of society should be made to drink the same cup.

The republic will not be perfect so long as thousands vote for a bum candidate and neglect to vote for a necessary constitutional amendment.

If Gen. Bristow finds 2,000,000 words necessary to tell of all the postoffice department frauds, what a lot must have been doing!

Boers, Britons and Germans are now engaged in killing Africans. Benevolent assimilation doesn't work on the dark continent.

It may well be hoped that Mr. Hay will not leave the cabinet. Mr. Roosevelt needs a brake.

The Chop Suey Scare.

Those who are inclined to be of festive nature or epicurean habits will "view with alarm" (as both of the big parties will say in their platforms next year) the announced fact that a chop suey trust has been formed in Chicago.

Chop suey is not one of the necessities of life, such as coal, ice, peanuts, popcorn, chewing gum and candy, cold bottles, hot birds and other staples in this our handsome little republic, but when one has acquired the chop suey habit it is as hard to break off as chewing toothpicks in public, expectorating on the street car floor, or cursing the city government.

Those who are acquainted with chop suey have had dealings with it under favorable circumstances will not hesitate to confirm this statement, and they will be the first to shudder at the thought that the tentacles of the Chicago chop suey octopus should ever reach so far enough to grasp St. Louis within their folds. Even some of the warmest devotees of this celebrated Chinese dish may not know the true nature of the ingredients which go to make up the savory mixture, but they are willing to take trifling details on faith and put up a fight, if necessary, to prevent the consummation of such a daring plan to corner the market or raise the price of the Oriental delicacy they have learned to love.

Why should they stop to inquire into the mysteries of Chinese cooking now? They have never stopped to inquire before, for in the midst of gustatory pleasures the process mattered not, as long as they were left to enjoy the finished product.

But the chief d'oeuvre of John Chinaman—chop suey!

Who knows the true inwardness of corned beef or has paused amid the cares of life to stop and analyze the component parts of his breakfast sausage? Yet would he not fight to retain them both?

With what greater zeal, then, shall the devotees of chop suey strive to keep their beloved dish from coming out of the control of those who have taught them to take it in faith and love and cherish it?

MISSOURI ODD FACTS.

Charles Brubaker, a banker of Brownau, was arrested and fined $60 for cutting hay on Sunday.

C. A. Boone of St. Joseph, a cigar salesman, who travels in northwest Missouri, is a great-grandson of Dean Boone. His son, Charles Boone, old Daniel's great-grandson, is a first lieutenant on the battleship Brooklyn, and, it is said, fired the first shot in the Spanish-American war.

Mrs. Henry Arbogast, at Mirabelle, has a chicken that is attracting attention. It has the shape, feet and head of a chicken, but instead of feathers it is covered with a velvety fur, of the color of mallow cat. It does not roost or fly as a chicken, nor does it flock with them. It makes no sound and refuses to be domesticated.

When William Scully of Washington, D. C., familiarly known as "Lord" Scully, who owns 300,000 acres of land in America, and is probably its biggest land owner, began buying farms in Bates County ten years ago, the people became alarmed lest he should import an alien tenantry; and they feared whether he did so or not, he would prove a hard landlord. For this reason a large number of the farmers of the county agreed not to sell him any more land. The agreement was broken on every side, however, and Mr. Scully succeeded in getting 45,000 acres. How groundless the popular fear in regard to him was is shown by a paragraph in the Bates County Record. In four sessions Mr. Scully has remitted a part of the rents due him from his tenants. One year he knocked off 25 per cent, another 50 per cent, another 75 per cent, and this year he has deducted 25 per cent because crops on his Bates County farms were injured by the floods last spring. "It has become so common," says the Record, "that renters are afraid to say, 'I rather rent the land'."

The left-hand gown is of black crepe de chene, or voile. The skirt is gathered at the top, but is otherwise plain. The blouse is covered with an odd arrangement of the material, forming a wide puff bordered with narrow puffs of the same and narrow black velvet ribbon. Knots of black velvet with strass buckles ornament the front. The yoke, or plastron, is of white lace, the collar of pink silk. The corset girdle is of black velvet. The other gown is of white silk. The skirt is tucked lengthwise and also encircled with groups of tucks headed by bands of ecru lace. The blouse is covered with a bolero of the lace cut with lengthened shoulders forming double epaulettes. The standing collar is of blue silk or velvet, loops of which passing through an eyelet in the lace, form the cravat. The full sleeves are trimmed at the bottom with the lace which also forms the cuffs. The latter are trimmed with bands of the blue silk, or velvet, and the draped girdle is of the blue.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

A TRUE PATRIOT.

Toby was the baby of the family, and though they made a clown of him, he was no fool.

More than that Toby was a great patriot. His trainer had dressed him up in the Stars and Stripes, and Toby was very proud of that.

"Greatest day of my life when I got into them jeans," he used to say. "Mean to stand up for the flag, and anybody who steps on that suit of mine will have to step on me," all of which was literally true. One day the clown came into the ring, dressed as a Spaniard, with a funny Spanish hat on one side of his little head.

"Ought to be ashamed of himself," argued Toby, "to wear such a rig as that in the presence of the Stars and Stripes. I just won't act with him, that's all," and Toby sat down on his ample haunches.

"Git up, you!" shouted the clown. But Toby never winked.

"G'wan out or here!" cried the little fellow, "or I'll bang yer one."

This was to much for Toby. "He's insulting the American flag," he muttered. "I don't care for myself, but no feller in the Spanish rig is goin' ter hit this flag," and he put back his two enormous ears.

"Hit me if you will, but spare the Old Glory," said Toby in true Barbara Frelche style.

The clown was angry. He brought his whip down on Toby—thwack!

Toby knocked him down with his left ear and spanked him down with his right. As he did so he cried, "That's Manila bay and that's Santiago."

They never saw that Spanish rig again.

NOVEMBER.

By Charlie Bliss in the Hillsboro (Ill.) News.

The farmer gets no morning nap. Because he has to crib his crap. He rises long before the dawn And hurries forth to gather cawn.

He works as long as it is light And does his chores way after night. And does his chores way after night. In November!

The farmer finds he's out of meat And kills a fattenin' shont to eat. He cooks a turkey good and brown. Until hog killin' time's arriv.

The kids turn in and eat their fill And then there is a doctor's bill. In November!

Along the creek the fat coon flees, The possums climb the s'mmon trees, The chipmunk hoards its winter food, And rabbit meat is tasting good.

The elder has a spicy twang, And ice cream isn't worth a dang. In November!

Thanksgiving time will soon be here, And then we'll banish every keener. We'll roast the turkey good and brown, With thankful hearts we'll then sit down, And in the Lord we'll put our trust And eat until we nearly burst. In November!

AGREED.

Prof. Thinkhard: I presume you wish you had back all the money you have spent at the gaming table.

Tough Bill: Yes, you bet. There's a nice little game I know of now that I'd like to butt into.

HIS WIT WON.

Jack: I'd like to kiss you. Turn your head.

Ernie (in pet): I won't!

Jack: Then I'll try a compliment.

Ernie: What good will that do?

Jack: A compliment will turn any girl's head.

THOSE FUNNY CHILDREN.

"Tommy," asked the teacher of a small pupil, "what does N. B. stand for?"

"New Brasky," promptly answered Tommy, who was third in a geography class of three.

There was a look of sadness on 5-year-old Maggie's face and her father asked her what was the trouble.

"Oh, go long with you," replied the tender. "You ain't got no money."

"Well," rejoined the small female, "ain't I got as good a right to go shopping as the other ladies?"—Brooklyn Eagle.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Lighting "New St. Louis"

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 So much has been said and written on the above subject that I hesitate to express an opinion or offer any suggestions, but there seems to me one suggested feature that has been entirely overlooked, and that is, the proper lighting of the city.

The present system is entirely inadequate and we cannot close our eyes to the fact. In this regard, instead of advancing, we have fallen back 10 years. A well-lighted city is pleasing to the eye and attractive, both to resident and stranger, and helps materially to foster good impressions. I understand the city has under consideration the building and operating of its own electric plant; this is a move in the right direction, and one to be looked forward to with pleasure. Of course, this is a future proposition. Cannot something be done, however, in the meantime to have the city more presentable?

Formerly we had the arc lights on the streets and incandescent lights in the saloons thereby assuring a comparatively safe condition; but as it is now with poorly lighted streets and darkened alleys, it is nothing more or less than an incentive to crime.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 In answer to the Young Arithmetician's if a man starts to work at 5 cents a day double the money each day, at the end of 31 days he will earn $6,942,531.18. I take great pleasure in answering this problem for the benefit of the readers of your valuable paper as well as for myself.

Poor Old Parents!

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 We would like to hear from others how our citizens of both sexes, that are so old and feeble to work, will be supported this winter, seeing there is no law to compel children to provide for their parents, and view of the large number of poor coming here from other places and using up the funds that are for charitable purposes!

Housework or Factory?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 I see so much about the servant girl problem in the papers and the things that are blamed for it. But the worst thing I read was in a St. Louis morning paper. There a lady puts the blame on education. Please send her a copy of your Post-Dispatch. Minnie Ha Ha would suit her to

LONE MAN ENTERS WOMAN'S CLUB; DIRECTORS ENTERTAIN AT OPENING

Furnishings Make Clubhouse a Restful Resort for Members;
And Ballroom Will Be Finished in Time to Be Used for Holiday Entertainments.

One man—just one and he from New York—attended the opening ceremonies of the St. Louis Woman's Club. This man, Marshall Darrach, was there because he is an entertainer, and the club members wanted some formal entertainment to take the place of the cigars that would have marked the opening of a men's clubhouse. Mrs. D. R. Francis, first vice-president, made the opening address in the absence of Mrs. James L. Blair. Mrs. Francis was assisted by Mrs. Julius S. Walsh and Mrs. William Hardaway, second and third vice-presidents.

The directors and other officers were in the building and served as hostesses for the various rooms, making the tour of inspection a continual round of receptions for the members and visitors.

Those taking up this duty were Mrs. Andrew J. Knapp, treasurer; Miss Hodgman, secretary; Mrs. Van Blarcom, Mrs. Clymer, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Ashely, Mrs. D. Scott, Mrs. Thomas K. Niedringhaus, Mrs. D.

Memorial Painting Ordered.
Permanent organization of the McKinley High School Memorial Association has been completed with the election of officers and a formal authorization to Wm. B. Itiner to let the contract for a McKinley memorial painting to the east wall of the new McKinley High School. Twenty-eight schools are represented. The officers are Herman Mauch, president; Mrs. Fred D. Bittmann and Wm. P. Bolte, vice-presidents; Wm. Appel, secretary, and J. K. Peters, treasurer. The next meeting will be held Nov. 17, at the Garfield School.

New Alton Hospital Rates.
By a vote of 15 to 13 at the monthly session of the Board of Supervisors of Madison County in Edwardsville Tuesday the board rescinded its action, taken at the September meeting, and the rate per diem paid for the care of county patients at the Alton hospital was changed after a lengthy discussion over the matter. It was finally decided that in cases of emergency that the hospital authorities should receive 50 cents per day for each patient, and for patients who were to be there permanently they should be allowed 20 cents per day.

THE MAN IN THE STREET

A MISSING BON MOT.

Lost, strayed or stolen—One "droll remark" said to have been made by Joseph Jefferson when a well-lined purse which had been lost by a member of his company was restored to her by the finder, a newspaper man.

The world is not so rich in humor that it can afford to lose even the least pretentious joke, and Jefferson's witticisms, though plentiful, are all good enough to be treasured as fine gold. Hence we should like to know what that "droll remark" was. That was a remark made by the word of the man who condenses the news for the table of contents in an esteemed contemporary. But an examination of the news item relating the incident of the purse reveals it to be strangely silent as to the nature of the droll remark. Naturally, those of us who trust to the table of contents expected to find a joke, were considerably disappointed at its absence. It may be edifying to know that a Thespian has $10 to lose, and astonishing that a newspaper man should return it if found, but these are serious matters, and could not change the fact that we have been cheated. Our money has been obtained under false pretenses. We demand the publication of that joke, or we will sue for damages.

Why was it not printed? Did it reflect too much upon our honorable profession, or did "esteemed contemporary" hold it a violation of its ethics to print a joke? Of course it never did before, but everything must have a beginning, and there could be no better way of starting in a supply the demand for smiles than to print a Jeffersonian jest. Contemporary, we believe, prides itself on its Jeffersonian bon mot; it's all in the family.

We appeal to its sense of fairness to print that joke.

Cheer up; the worst is yet to come. Congress is in special session.

A "wide open" town is one in which the unwary fall and break their necks.

Why turn over the pavement any more? It is just as soiled on the other side.

We are getting so accustomed to sensations here that we don't sleep well unless something startling is going on.

Money is said, by those who have seen it, to be tight.

Patrolman McBride says that he shot Mack Banks to attract the attention of another policeman. Why not have shot the other policeman?

Wall street had a little lamb
And fleeced it to the skin.
"Now that is what," the old street said.
"You get for butting in."

Forty-six Sioux Indians were drunk in Union Station recently, but made no trouble. Had they been better Indians there would have been a riot.

"Force-thoughts"

Nov. 4.

I THINK living properly, which means living toward success, is simply a sum in arithmetic. Mental work consumes nitrogen and phosphates—which are hard words, but mean simply energy and brains. Food contains nitrogen and phosphate—some foods.

But I don't know where you can get so much available nitrogen and phosphates as in a package of "FORCE."

For "FORCE" is all that's fit to eat of the wheat-berry—the world's best food since time began.

Brain-workers thrive on "FORCE."

That's plain arithmetic, and so simple that you don't have to look in the back of the book for the answer.

Be Sunny.

Yours truly,

REVIEWS OF THE DRAMA

"Mr. Bluebeard" has rather taken the breath of play-going St. Louis. We expected it to be big and beautiful, but we were hardly prepared for the gorgeous display the Klaw & Erlanger people are making at the Century Theater this week.

It is not necessary that anything in "Mr. Bluebeard" be pleasing to the ear; you get your money's worth simply looking on. Nothing like it has ever been seen in St. Louis. It is questionable if there is anything like it anywhere, for the modern master of extravagance is just as likely to exaggerate Paradise as anything else.

There is no dissension among the playgoers who have seen the show. It is easily the most elaborate stage production ever brought to St. Louis, and one comes away from the immensity of it with confused thoughts of what was there.

There are so many delightful and beautiful things in "Mr. Bluebeard" that no one feature makes an impression; but there is something about the show that is so impressive and so beautiful that it is hard to say what it is that cannot be commended; but there are so many things that are good that no lover of the spectacular in theatricals should miss it.

Eddie Foy, sometimes funny man, is enjoying one of these sometimes at the Century this week. He gets the lion's share of applause for individuals, which is pretty good, considering that the Bluebeard company is about the size of the Caesar's army.

"A Country Girl" is getting its share of the business at the Olympic Theater, and Slavina, star-bird, is holding his own pretty well against the flying ballet at the Century.

The new play in which Mr. Frohman is to present William H. Crane at the Olympic Theater next week is "The Spenders," an adaptation of William Somerset Maugham. It is in four acts, opening out in Montana and then jumping East. It has created a great deal of attention in the cities in which it has been shown, and is credited with being a big financial success. One of its great charms lies in the fact that it furnishes Mr. Crane with a character in the table of contents of the play.

Peter Bines, a rough, rugged miner. He is a man who has known cold and hunger. For years he has been in the trails in the Montana hills, until one day he struck pay ore. He is settling down East, and the plot deals mainly with his efforts to teach them a lesson and make a man of his grandson. Two love stories run through the piece.

Mr. Frohman has made an elaborate production of the comedy. In the cast, prominently are John Flood, George R. Spencer, Percy Brooke, Charles Crawford, Lucille Flavin, Olive May, Lida McKillan and Ann Caverly.

Wilson Barrett's historical and religious drama, "The Sign of the Cross," has long been accepted as one of the greatest plays in the history of the stage. Its historical interest turns to the cruelty and cruelty in Rome during the dark reign of the Emperor Nero. The religious atmosphere which so beautifully pervades this play is drawn from a band of faithful Christians who endure the most cruel persecutions and even martyrdom at the hands of the followers of Nero rather than abjure their faith.

The conversion of Christianity of the Roman prefect, Marcus Superbus, through his love for the beautiful Christian maiden, Merula, and the twin going to the arena to be torn by lions rather than obtain freedom at the price of their faith, is the greatest climax of this drama of so many soul-stirring incidents. "The Sign of the Cross" is notably elaborate and magnificent in its reproduction of the luxury and rich settings of the Roman court.

Some of the most striking pictures ever presented in spectacular drama are shown. "The Sign of the Cross" with an admirable cast, will be given at the Grand Opera House next week, commencing with a matinee Sunday afternoon.

Maggie Mitchell's "Fanchon" the Crick-et," is the vehicle chosen by the St. Louis sketch club in which to exploit their talent. The performance, to be given at the Pickwick Theater Thursday evening, Nov. 11, with Miss Violet E. Baker in the title role, "The Shadow and Maypole dances will be an especial feature. This play is an adaptation from the French by Arne Waldauer, for several years a member of a local orchestra, and its first production was at the St. Louis Sketch Club membership in: Misses Giesler, Eleanor Blumer, Tenny, English, Lewis, Walton, Levy, Allen and Van Leaton and Messrs. Peeney, Fawcett, Hudson, Weber, Watson, Northway, Bene, Zeller and Almes.

"A Ruined Life" is underlined to appear at the Imperial Theater next week, starting Sunday matinee. The play is the work of E. Laurence Lee. It has been the usual rule for him to put life and humor in new plays during rehearsals. At many times he has found it necessary to write entirely new comedy parts and scenes in order that the heavier scenes of melodrama might be relieved by humorous situations.

While writing "A Ruined Life," Mr. Lee evidently bore in mind the troubles encountered before, and supplied the play with plenty of humor so much in fact, that at the rehearsals it was found necessary to eliminate a portion of the comedy in order that the plot of the melodrama could be brought out in stronger relief.

Jolly Nellie McHenry, with a highly capable company and production, is filling the theater at each performance this week.

That sparkling bit of rags-time in three acts, "Where is Cobb?" comes to the Playhouse next Sunday. The play, which is from the pen of Louis Hagen, is a musical farce-comedy pure and simple, but contains enough plot to hold together a delightful story. A series of misunderstandings keep the comedians busy squaring themselves, while ludicrous incidents develop so rapidly that the audience can find time for nothing but laughter. The singing, dancing and musical specialties are featured by themselves, and are presented by a number of clever vaudeville artists.

At Havlin's this week the offering is the laughing success, "McFadden's Night of Flats," which this season is enjoying a remarkably successful tour. Among the leaders of the company which numbers 25 people, may be mentioned Joe Willard, Marguerite Ferguson, Ada B. Wall, the Exposition Four, Fred Bold, James E. Rome, Bobby Rolston, Jerry Sullivan, Tedd, Simms, the Tellow Kids, May Baker and Libby Hart.

"Across the Pacific," Harry Clay Blaney's popular vaudeville extravaganza, which will be the attraction at Havlin's on Sunday matinee next, is a genuine thriller and comedy are laid in Montana, Chinatown, San Francisco, on board a United States transport, in the Philippines, and in a real Gatling gun battle.

The popular little comedian, Harry Clay Blaney, has new songs and dances that are always a pleasing feature.

The Columbia is offering a good bill this week, with Tom Nawn and company as headliners. Mr. Nawn and his two sisters, who form his supporting company, have been seen at the Columbia often before, and are great favorites with the regular patrons of the house. Their act is exceedingly clever, it being a mythical comedy, entitled "Pat and the Quail."

Frank Bush, who is perhaps the best mimic in vaudeville; J. C. Nugent and Grace, the famous "Assen-Mingos," a comedy by Mr. Nugent; Angie, the lady locusts of vaudeville; and the "Melville" dancers.

Coming to the Columbia next week are Robert Hilliard and company, the Four Lightnings, Lew Hawkins, Dillon Brothers, Henri Humberty, the musical Westons, Flo Adler and boy, Hodges and Lamberson, three juggling Jordans, Bert Lennon and Mr. and Mrs. Wright.

"Familie Hoerner," (the Horn family), by Arno Anno, at the German Theater (Odeon) Thursday night, is one of those farces which bear revival any time by a good company with several comedians of the Heinemann and Loebel class and singers like Leonie Bergers. All the members in the stock have been cast, and Herr Heinemann will play the leading comedy role.

Arno Anno, at the German Theater (Odeon) Sunday night, a production of Schiller's, "Jungfrau von Orléans" (The Maid of Orléans). New scenery, beautiful costumes, in the period of Charles VII. and other necessary stage accessories are being prepared for this production, which promises to be most noteworthy. Every German loves his Schiller, as an Englishman does Shakespeare. The great tragedy is written in blank verse and has a prologue and five acts.

Another Odeon concert will take place Friday night, Nov. 20, when Director Ernst Reibel Courtier will bring his band and the soloists he has engaged for a tour of the west. No other concert band has ever started out with as many soloists, both vocal and instrumental, as this one. Miss Grace Rose Courtier, the leader's wife, a high-class soprano, will be the principal vocalist.

Prof. Schick and his concert band of 100 little musicians, such as good impressions on last Sunday at their afternoon concert at the Odeon that the enterprises will be continued for eight more Sundays. The band is, in some respects, the most unique in the United States, and at the same time the best children's band ever heard here, where the Hungarian "Kubankapelle" was considered quite the thing a few years ago. Mr. Schick secures much greater union in playing, than would be expected of children.

The chorus of the St. Louis School of Opera, which will produce the "Bohemian Girl" Saturday night, Nov. 26, numbers now 75 people. They have mastered the entire score of the opera, and are now ready to be coached in the histrionic portions. With principals and chorus the cast of this opera, sung by amateurs, will contain at least 100 persons.

Coming to Hasbagen's Auditorium next week are the Fathinellas, versatile vaudeville favorites; Demas and Orlando, sketch artists; Fania Davis, song illustrators; John Thacker, monologist; Rose, soubrette; Helen Hart, comedienne, and the Coney Island Show Girls, introducing the latest song.

ROBERTS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 3.—Robertson pleaded guilty in the United States district court here today to robbing mail pouches at Springfield Junction, Mo., 22. He was sentenced to two years in Chester penitentiary. Roberts says a Bell, who was sentenced to Denver, Colo., and who confessed to robbing the mail pouches at the junction, was not engaged in the robbery in March.

Pioneer Photographer Dies.
Robert Benecke, one of the pioneer photographers of St. Louis, died at his home, 2741 Armand street, Tuesday night at the age of 85 years. He engaged in the photographic business after the civil war, which he fought. For the past 20 years has been superintendent of a dry plate factory. He is survived by a widow, the daughter, Mrs. August Schuster, 31 Anna street, Mrs. Joseph Usher, and a son Theodore Benecke.

Family of Ten Destitute.
The destitute condition of Mrs. Kate D. Long, a widow, and her nine children ranging in age from 2 days to 12 years, is being reported to the police. The family lives at 629 South Broadway, and is in need of food and fuel. The husband and father died recently, and since then the family has had no means of support.

Coming to Hasbagen's Auditorium next week are the Fathinellas, versatile vaudeville favorites; Demas and Orlando, sketch artists; Fania Davis, song illustrators; John Thacker, monologist; Rose, soubrette; Helen Hart, comedienne, and the Coney Island Show Girls, introducing the latest song.

New scenery, beautiful costumes, in the period of Charles VII. and other necessary stage accessories are being prepared for this production, which promises to be most noteworthy. Every German loves his Schiller, as an Englishman does Shakespeare. The great tragedy is written in blank verse and has a prologue and five acts.

Another Odeon concert will take place Friday night, Nov. 20, when Director Ernst Reibel Courtier will bring his band and the soloists he has engaged for a tour of the west. No other concert band has ever started out with as many soloists, both vocal and instrumental, as this one. Miss Grace Rose Courtier, the leader's wife, a high-class soprano, will be the principal vocalist.

Prof. Schick and his concert band of 100 little musicians, such as good impressions on last Sunday at their afternoon concert at the Odeon that the enterprises will be continued for eight more Sundays. The band is, in some respects, the most unique in the United States, and at the same time the best children's band ever heard here, where the Hungarian "Kubankapelle" was considered quite the thing a few years ago. Mr. Schick secures much greater union in playing, than would be expected of children.

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF DOINGS IN MARKET AND FINANCIAL WORK

STRONG EARLY MARKET BUT A LEAKY CLOSE

The Election of the Tammany Ticket Stimulated the New York Tractions This Morning but the Gain Was Lost This Afternoon.

The market opened with a fairly good volume of business and at an advance over the close Monday.

The New York tractions were well advanced on account of the election of a Tammany mayor, these stocks being supposed to have strong Tammany affiliations.

Expectations of heavy imports of gold had a good effect on the market, it being estimated that $20,000,000 will come here by Jan. 1.

In the latter part of the day the earlier gains were lost, mostly on account of reports of London financial disturbances and profit taking.

The close was quiet and near the low point of the day.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The market opened this morning with a fairly good volume of business and higher prices. There was a more cheerful feeling around the room than for some time, and the stocks were generally well pleased at the outlook. London came some higher, and the buying orders amounting to about 25,000 shares.

The results of yesterday's election were reflected particularly in those stocks which would be naturally affected by favorable legislation. Metropolitan was the most advanced, the gain being over 2 points from Monday's close. Brooklyn Rapid Transit was also a good gainer and both were quite active in the trading.

The engagement of gold for import had a remarkably good effect on the market, as it is thought that the imports will more than make up for the funds which have been sent to the interior. Some of the authorities say that it is quite probable that at least $5,000,000 will be imported by Jan. 1.

The buying this morning was of a good character, the commission houses doing a comparatively good business, though it is hardly to be expected that there will be any considerable amount of trading for a time.

The trading for the first half hour was quite active, with the tractions and Copper being the leaders from the point of view of business. Prices were somewhat inclined to drop but the decline was but fractional. The opening prices and changes were as follows: Copper, 34½, advance 3/4; Atchison, 77½, advance 3/4; Brooklyn, 77½, advance 1/4; Erie, 77½, unchanged; Manhattan, 139½, advance 1/4; Rock Island, 54½, decline 1/4; Reading, 40½, advance 1/4; St. Paul, 140, advance 3/4; Union Pacific, 92½, advance 1/4; Steel common, 132, advance 1/4; Steel preferred, 132, unchanged.

After the initial strength in the tractions, there was a period of quiet trading, which took the advance out of the leading local stocks. Metropolitan lost its early gain and sold back to 110½, 111½ under yesterday's close. Other stocks of the same class showed corresponding losses.

There was considerable talk on Sugar in connection with the prospects of Cuban reciprocity legislation, which is expected to pass Congress, but the trading did not assume any considerable proportions.

Steel stocks were weaker, the 5 per cent bonds being noticeably so and the other issues active in connection with the election of Congress, but the trading did not assume any considerable proportions.

Baltimore and Ohio was active and sold quite liberally around 78½, the report being current that the stock would be soon listed on the Berlin bourse.

The sales in noon were a slight improvement over the close of last week and Monday of this week, the aggregate being 232½ per share, with call money at 4 per cent.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Opening prices advanced with the New York corporations in the lead. Metropolitan Securities, 14½, American Ice preferred, 14½, Consolidated Gas, 14½, Metropolitan Street Railway, 24½. With the exception of a rise of about a point in Baltimore and Ohio, other stocks of the same class were active and sold quite liberally around 78½, the report being current that the stock would be soon listed on the Berlin bourse.

The sales in noon were a slight improvement over the close of last week and Monday of this week, the aggregate being 232½ per share, with call money at 4 per cent.

DECEMBER WHEAT DEAL COLLAPSE

The "Cornered" Option Declined 11-9 Cents on Reports From Chicago.

SHORTS SHOW MORE NERVE

Not So Much Fear of a Squeeze Displayed—The Situation in Grain Markets.

The December deal in wheat did not today appear to be a menace to the shorts. In fact they acted very much as though it had lost its terrors to those who had believed they were in the grip of a "corner." Reports from Chicago that C. H. Spencer's house in that market was a heavy seller there of December wheat, besides other grain, led to the idea that the combine, of which he is supposed to be the head, was not supposed to have tied up so tight in the wheat market as the close was only a few days off. Cables displayed a comparative well-sustained market in England, and the French market was considerably higher, receipts for some smaller and Bradstreet's report on available supplies was bullish. The movement made on these did not hold, however, the uneasy feeling regarding the December deal and its weakness, together with selling by the combine, which said to be heavily short against the December wheat, was causing a decline in the May and late in the day and a weak close. Coarse grains were stronger on the report of a heavy rain, which affected corn and sympathetically oats.

WHEAT—A disposition to sell the December and buy the May option was the most notable feature of the market in the local pit this morning. Whether this was for the combine that had bought wheat to spread the December bought and the May sold, was not known, though pretty generally believed to be the case. The opening was over, though the market was well sustained on the surprisingly well sustained market abroad and the demand for wheat on this side yesterday. Liverpool, after opening 4d lower, had recovered 4d, London, and Paris had sold at 80½. Weather conditions were reasonable with more rain in the winter wheat country where drought had prevailed for some time. Receipts showed a decrease here and in the Northwest and selling was a strengthening effect on the market in the East. The December wheat had arrived, against 128,000 bu a week and 360,100 a year ago, at Kansas City 24½, 90 bu against 280,000 bu last year; at St. Louis 24½, 90 bu against 280,000 bu last year; at St. Paul 24½, 90 bu against 280,000 bu last year;
